Security Message from Alex Jacobs

I have recently taken on the role of MA Security Officer, and I am grateful for the support and trust which I have received from Rabbi Golker, the Executive and many of our members. At present, I am reviewing our security policies and procedures and I have had meetings with CST to discuss what, if anything, we need in addition to the exceptional security support we receive from Atanas. Two weeks ago, the Regional Head of CST for Barnet South visited Shul on Shabbat morning and inspected the entire site (including parts of the building used by OYH). He made various recommendations and observations which are being considered by the Shul. In the meantime, you may have seen an increased security presence by members of the Shul. In response to my WhatsApp request from the Shul, some 20 members have put themselves forward to stand on security as required. I am truly grateful to each of them, including Rabbi Golker who intends to play his part in this important aspect of Shul. If you wish to add your name, please contact me (details below). I must stress that as a Shul and as a building there is no specific intelligence or threat to our safety. The enhanced security at present is for reassurance to members of the community during the current time and to ensure everyone feels as comfortable as possible when attending our services. We do not have any equipment of our own and I am in discussions with Rabbi Golker, CST and the United Synagogue regarding procuring no more than the necessary equipment, in line with Halacha, to ensure that if our own security team remains necessary, those who undertake such duties do so with their own protection first and foremost so that they can efficiently and safely protect all those who use our wonderful Shul. It is hoped that if, on the advice of CST, a full security team remains necessary, full training will be provided for those who volunteer. If you wish to join the security team or if you have any specific queries or information which you wish to bring to my attention, please email me at security@magenavot.com. I shall provide a further update in due course.
