Important Security Notice to all members

If you do not already volunteer for security, please do so without delay. With the Yomim Noraim approaching, Magen Avot requires an increase to our dedicated and reliable team of security volunteers. I am sure you, like me, are incredibly grateful to the small number of members who regularly stand outside, in all weathers, to ensure that the employed security guard is supported and that all those who come to Magen Avot are kept safe, secure and reassured. However, my team cannot be relied upon to cover all shifts over the Chagim as they need time for themselves to connect with Yom Tov and there will be many more shifts to cover due to longer service times.

It really is the responsibility of every member to play their part and I urge everyone to sign up so that the shifts can be equally shared out with no individual having to do more than necessary. Please don't ignore this plea; whilst there is no specific threat to our kehilla, in the current climate we are all vulnerable and everyone must play their part whilst this situation exists. There are some limited roles for those who may not feel physically able to stand outside for the duration of their shift (usually 30 minutes). Full training will be provided. If you wish to discuss what the duty entails or have any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to ask me or any member of the team. The email address is security@magenavot.com. Sign up by sending an email with your name and mobile phone number to me or by joining the security group on the Magen Avot WhatsApp group. The more who sign up, the less frequently you will be required to assist.

Alex Jacobs, Head of Security
